Eastern Ontario may be in the depths of cold mid-winter, but with the days already getting noticeably longer there is warm comfort in knowing that spring is just around the corner. What better time to start turning those simmering kitchen and bathroom remodelling ideas into reality than by visiting the showroom of one of Ottawa's most trusted renovation companies — Westend Bath and Kitchen.

For more than 30 years, Westend has been delivering on its promise of superior quality workmanship backed by a customer satisfaction guarantee that is second to none. It is a winning combination that brings customers back time and time again, and wins over new customers who might be dealing with professional renovations for the very first time.

The work recently completed for a Greely couple by Westend designer Brenda Kokiv is a wonderful example of what is within the realm of “art of the possible” for a company that offers worry-free renovation project management. In this case, the Before and After photos of Kokiv's project clearly show what materialized when her customers shared their vision with the experienced professionals at Team Westend.

“The main goal for this project was to create an inviting and functional layout by expanding the kitchen's tight footprint, modernizing the finishes and ultimately creating a space built for entertaining friends and family,” Kokiv said. “Every detail from the redesign of the floor plan to the edging on the countertops was carefully chosen to make this happen.”

The result is stunning. Kokiv made a complete layout change by tearing down walls, opening up the doorway to the kitchen, and extending the kitchen into what had been an adjoining home office and closet space. The addition of a larger island than what was originally there introduced an attractive and functional new arrangement for extra workspace and seating.

Like many customers who feel the time is right to invest in a major kitchen overhaul, Westend Bath and Kitchen designer Brenda Kokiv worked closely with her customers in Greely to incorporate modern, high-efficiency appliances into their new kitchen design. the Greely couple took the opportunity to have Westend incorporate modern, high-efficiency appliances into their new design. Kokiv ensured they would be pleased by her sensible layout of the new appliances in a space trimmed out with Deslaurier stained maple Northfield cabinets with crown mouldings, Ella Luxury series Cambria quartz countertops with bevelled edgings, Sarana 4x24-inch “wood look” ceramic floor tiles, random-strip Euro glass mosaic backsplash tiles, and a Ladylux Café Pro Dual high-arc faucet in a SuperSteel finish from Grohe. Kokiv also created a bar area with a small wine fridge conveniently next to the island, and added an appliance garage on top of the bar counter to keep clutter to a minimum.

To improve the efficiency of the countertop work areas and manage the overall kitchen lighting, Kokiv added undercabinet LEDs and dimmable ceiling pot lights. Westend also installed a trio of attractive island pendant lights purchased separately by the customers. The flexibility of the lighting suite gives the homeowners whatever they want in terms of strong work light, or relaxing mood lighting when entertaining.

As ever, the installation work from Westend Bath and Kitchen meets the highest standards for quality of materials, workmanship and customer satisfaction. Kokiv says she is thrilled with how it all turned out, and is certain the new kitchen space will serve her customers well for many years to come.
